

International Rescue Committee Tucson

The International Rescue Committee in Tucson is currently accepting applicants for the IRC Summer Internship Program. I would greatly appreciate it if you forwarded the following message to any interested students. Thank you! Please note that with the precautions surrounding COVID-19 these internships will be remote.

About the IRC:

The International Rescue Committee (IRC) is a global humanitarian aid organization that responds to the world's worst crises and helps people survive, recover, and rebuild their lives. The IRC in Tucson opened in 1997 and is one of 30 U.S. offices that work locally with the community to best provide culturally and linguistically appropriate services that reflect the unique challenges refugees face. Our mission is to provide opportunities for refugees – survivors of violent conflict, and often torture – to rebuild their lives and regain self-reliance. Interns will be assigned to various tasks, such as helping newly arrived refugees find employment, teaching Cultural Orientation classes to help refugees adjust to life in America, or advocating on behalf of refugee's medical needs.

Internship Program Details and Application Process:

Interns are accepted on a rolling basis, depending on the needs of the program.

Minimum is 20 hrs/wk for 3 months during the summer (requirements vary by role).

This is an unpaid internship, but course credit is often available. Please check credit eligibility requirements from your university department and come prepared to ask any necessary questions during your interview.

Details of the application process and a full list of roles, descriptions, and requirements are online HERE.

Please note that with the precautions surrounding COVID-19 these internships will be remote. Also, please note that as we continue to plan for the summer, more positions may become available so please continue to check the website for more positions.
