Organization Name:

Sister Jose Women's Center

Organization Background:

Sister Jose Women's Center serves the needs of homeless women in Tucson. Established in 2009 as an emergency winter overnight program in downtown Tucson, we have since expanded to a full-service daytime center, year-long overnight shelter, and offer empowerment to homeless women to move forward in their lives. Visit us at sisterjose.org. or friend us on Facebook.

Internship Project Title

Day and Overnight Program Internship

Project Description:

Interns are involved in direct contact services with homeless women. Intern usually work a combination of day and overnight shifts. During the day, interns help run all the services - work in the kitchen, at the reception desk, in the free shop, help with laundry, and sort through donations. Detail oriented interns help with data collection and reporting. Overnight work involves meal clean-up and supervision of 36 guests in a large warehouse setting in which interns sleep when the guests sleep (9pm-5:30am.) Interns are also offered the opportunity to shadow administrator. This may include participation in our Empowerment program for homeless women called CREATE by attending team meetings, coaching with CREATE participants, working with the volunteer coordinator and scheduling, admin support, research into issues related to women and homelessness, etc.

☐ Check here if the student may have the option to work remotely from a site not listed above for all or part of this project.

Student Characteristics:

Reliable, hard worker with a compassionate heart. Ready to have direct contact with homeless individuals who may also suffer from other mental health, addiction, PTSD issues.

Level of Expertise Needed: Do you wish to request an MPH program intern or an undergraduate public health program intern? Note: The field-based internship for undergraduates should provide an experience that allows students to incorporate classroom learning into public health practice. Graduate student internships differ as the students should be required to apply advanced knowledge and skills to the solution of health problems. Both experiences prepare students for future employment.
