

Mel and Enid Zuckerman
College of Public Health

Organization Name

UA Campus Health Service

Level of Expertise Needed

Undergraduate public health intern (senior)

Internship Project Title

Health Promotion and Preventive Services Senior Public Health Intern

Project Description

- Assist in the structure, design, implementation, and evaluation of health promotion events
- Attend and participate in staff meetings
- Distribute health-related media
- Observe and assist in presentations on a variety of different health topics
- Contribute to the development of health media (posters, brochures, etc.)
- Attend and participate in health and wellness trainings and workshops
- Collaborate with other Campus Health departments
- Guest author a health article on either sexual health or alcohol
- Collect qualitative and quantitative student data
- Assist in the development of health and wellness presentations
- Research other college health centers' services, programs, etc.
- Attend and participate in various working-groups related to college student health and wellness
- Assist in implementation of new and ongoing educational programs and presentations

Student Characteristics

- Dependable
- Organized
- Self-Starter
- Creative thinker
- Interest in health, wellness, risk reduction, and prevention
- Effective problem-solving abilities
- Works well both independently and with a team

Background of Organization

UA Campus Health Service was established in 1918 in response to the Spanish Influenza and was the first fully accredited college health service in the nation. Campus Health has a long history of promoting health, wellness and safety at the UA by providing quality medical and mental health care, outstanding health education, while assisting the institution in health-related policy development.

Where

UA Campus Health Service at 1224 E Lowell Street (on main UA Campus).

When

Fall and/or Spring semesters (3 or 6 unit internships)
Limited number of internships available

Supervision

Lee Ann Hamilton, MA, CHES, Assistant Director of Health Promotion and Preventive Services. Lee Ann has over 25 year of experience in college health and is an adjunct faculty member in the UA College of Public Health.

Intern Title

Health Promotion and Preventive Services Senior Public Health Intern

Compensation/Benefits

Compensation:

- Course credit is given for this internship (no financial compensation)

Benefits:

- Experience working with and learning alongside an award-winning Health Promotion department
- Learn the complexity of health promotion and risk reduction on a large college campus
- Improve skills related to health communication (oral and written), event planning, public health practice, assessment, and evaluation
- Real-world experience in a college health setting
- Develop a more in-depth resume and portfolio
- Build knowledge of professional etiquette and expertise

Application Contact Information

Fill out an Internship Application Form and submit a resume via email. Contact Lee Ann Hamilton at hamilton@email.arizona.edu or (520) 621-4967 to request an application.

March 10 application deadline for fall internships, and October 10 deadline for spring internships.